4Q17 Commentary

In the final quarter of 2017, global financial markets were dominated by U.S. equity market strength driven by expectations of a major reduction in corporate tax liabilities. Domestic GDP strengthened a bit, and employment gains rebounded. Bond yields climbed modestly, the dollar moved sideways, and commodity prices rose in dollar terms.

For the quarter, the S&P 500 Index² advanced +6.64% and the NASDAQ Composite Index² rose by +6.55%, capping a powerful year of gains for U.S. share prices. Although foreign shares generally performed well during the year, equities in Europe struggled during the quarter, with the MSCI Euro Index² falling by -1.12% (EUR). In contrast, Asian shares did well, with Japanese shares leaping +12.00% (YEN), as measured by the Nikkei 225 Stock Average Index². The MSCI China Index² was up +7.62%, and other emerging market shares, in general, also were quite strong, with a quarterly gain of +7.44% for the MSCI Emerging Market Index².

In terms of market capitalization and equity style characteristics, the quarter favored large cap and growth stocks. Large cap stocks advanced nicely during the quarter and outperformed small cap stocks as the Russell 1000² and Russell 2000² indexes posted quarterly returns of 6.59% and 3.34%, respectively. As for investment style, growth stocks once again gained some ground in the quarter as the Russell 1000 Growth² and the Russell 1000 Value² indexes posted quarterly returns of 7.86% and 5.33%, respectively.

The Marsico 21st Century Fund posted a return of 5.27% for the fourth quarter and underperformed its benchmark, the S&P 500 Index, which returned 6.64%.

Primary Detractors⁵:

Stock selection in the Financials and Consumer Discretionary sectors⁸ was a detractor from performance during the quarter. As the benchmark index gained more than +6% in the quarter, the Fund incurred an opportunity cost by maintaining a slightly elevated allocation to cash and cash equivalents (the Fund had 5% in cash and cash equivalents at the end of the period).

Primary Contributors⁵:

Stock selection in the Real Estate sector was the largest driver of performance during the period. The Fund's underweight allocations to the Health Care and Utilities sectors, the weakest-performing sectors of the benchmark index, also aided performance.

The 21st Century Fund and the stocks and markets in which it invests are subject to general risks that include volatility and instability, periods of cyclical change and decline, that investors may at times avoid investments in equity securities, and that the investment adviser may select investments for the Fund that do not perform as anticipated.

² The S&P 500 Index is a registered trademark of S&P and is an unmanaged broadly-based index of the common stock prices of 500 large U.S. companies, and includes the reinvestment of dividends. The Russell 1000 Index measures the performance of the large-cap segment of the U.S. equity universe. It is a subset of the Russell 3000 Index and includes approximately 1000 of the largest securities based on a combination of their market cap and current index membership, and includes the reinvestment of dividends. The Russell 2000 Index measures the performance of the small-cap segment of the U.S. equity universe. The Russell 2000 Index is a subset of the Russell 3000® Index representing approximately 10% of the total market capitalization of that index. It includes approximately 2000 of the smallest securities based on a combination of their market cap and current index membership, and includes the reinvestment of dividends. The Russell 1000 Growth Index measures the performance of the large-cap growth segment of the U.S. equity universe. It includes those Russell 1000 companies with higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted growth values, and includes the reinvestment of dividends. The Russell 1000 Value Index measures the performance of the large-cap value segment of the U.S. equity universe. It includes those Russell 1000 companies with lower price-to-book ratios and lower expected growth values, and includes the reinvestment of dividends. The MSCI Emerging Markets Index captures large and mid-cap representation across 23 Emerging Markets (EM) countries. With 835 constituents, the index covers approximately 85% of the free float-adjusted market capitalization in each country. The NASDAQ Composite Index is the market capitalization-weighted index of approximately 3,000 common equities listed on the Nasdaq stock exchange. The types of securities in the index include American depositary receipts, common stocks, real estate investment trusts (REITs) and tracking stocks, as well as limited partnership interests. The index includes all Nasdaq-listed stocks that are not derivatives, preferred shares, funds, exchange-traded funds (ETFs) or debenture securities. The MSCI China Index captures large and mid cap representation across China H shares, B shares, Red chips, P chips and foreign listings (e.g. ADRs). With 12 constituents, the index covers about 85% of the China equity universe. The MSCI Euro Index captures large cap representation across the 10 Developed Markets countries in the European Monetary Union ("EMU"). With 124 constituents, the index covers approximately 70% of the free float-adjusted market capitalization of the EMU. The Nikkei 225 Stock Average Index is a price-weighted index comprised of 225 top-rated Japanese companies listed in the First Section of the Tokyo Stock Exchange, excluding ETFs, REITs, preferred equity contribution securities, and tracking stocks (on subsidiary dividend), etc., other than common stocks. Sources of foreign exchange rates may be different between a portfolio and the benchmarks. The indexes mentioned above are unmanaged and not available for direct investment. For comparison purposes, it should be noted that the indexes do not charge fees and have no expenses.

³ Lipper Inc., A Reuters Company, is a nationally recognized organization that measures the performance of mutual funds within a universe of funds that have similar investment objectives. The Lipper Multi-Cap Growth Index is an equal dollar weighted index of the largest mutual funds within the Multi-Cap Growth fund classification, as defined by Lipper. The index is adjusted for the reinvestment of capital gains and income dividends. For a complete description of Lipper investment objectives, please see: www.lipperweb.com.
