² The MSCI All Country World Index is a free float-adjusted market capitalization weighted index that is designed to measure the equity market performance of developed and emerging markets. The MSCI ACWI Growth Index captures large and mid cap securities exhibiting overall growth style characteristics across 23 Developed Markets (DM) countries and 23 Emerging Markets (EM) countries. The growth investment style characteristics for index construction are defined using five variables: long-term forward EPS growth rate, short-term forward EPS growth rate, current internal growth rate and long-term historical EPS growth trend and long-term historical sales per share growth trend. The MSCI ACWI Value Index captures large and mid cap securities exhibiting overall value style characteristics across 23 Developed Markets countries and 23 Emerging Markets (EM) countries. The value investment style characteristics for index construction are defined using three variables: book value to price, 12-month forward earnings to price and dividend yield. With 1,298 constituents, the index targets 50% coverage of the free float-adjusted market capitalization of the MSCI ACWI Index. The S&P 500 Index is a registered trademark of S&P and is an unmanaged broadly-based index of the common stock prices of 500 large U.S. companies, and includes the reinvestment of dividends. The MSCI Emerging Markets (EM) Index captures large and mid-cap representation across 24 Emerging Markets (EM) countries. With 846 constituents, the index covers approximately 85% of the free float-adjusted market capitalization in each country. The NASDAQ Composite Index is the market capitalization-weighted index of approximately 3,000 common equities listed on the Nasdaq stock exchange. The types of securities in the index include American depositary receipts, common stocks, real estate investment trusts (REITs) and tracking stocks, as well as limited partnership interests. The index includes all Nasdaq-listed stocks that are not derivatives, preferred shares, funds, exchange-traded funds (ETFs) or debenture securities. The MSCI China Index captures large and mid cap representation across China H shares, B shares, Red chips, P chips and foreign listings (e.g. ADRs). With 153 constituents, the index covers about 85% of this China equity universe. The MSCI Euro Index captures large cap representation across the 10 Developed Markets countries in the European Monetary Union. With 123 constituents, the index covers approximately 70% of the free float-adjusted market capitalization of the EMU. The Nikkei 225 Stock Average Index is a price-weighted average of 225 top-rated Japanese companies listed in the First Section of the Tokyo Stock Exchange, excluding ETFs, REITs, preferred equity contribution securities, and tracking stocks (on subsidiary dividend) etc. other than common stocks. Sources of foreign exchange rates may be different between a portfolio and the benchmarks. The indexes mentioned above are unmanaged and not available for direct investment. For comparison purposes, it should be noted that the indexes do not charge fees and have no expenses.

4Q18 Commentary

The fourth quarter of 2018 was turbulent and resulted in a major reset for stock prices and other asset classes around the globe. The continued drumbeat surrounding U.S./China bi-lateral trade tariffs, along with the impact of rising interest rates on industries like housing and automobiles, have raised anxiety over a potential monetary policy error by the Federal Reserve. In addition, concerns that broader economic growth may slow also weighed on the markets. The fourth quarter was particularly difficult for growth stocks, which had led the broader market higher for much of the year, and thus were the first to be sold as investors became nervous.

For the quarter, the S&P 500 Index fell -13.52% and the NASDAQ Composite Index² fell -17.29%. Japan's Nikkei 225 Index² was down -16.82% (in local currency). Equities in Europe followed suit. The MSCI Euro Index² was down 13.20% and the MSCI China Index² declined by -10.73%. The MSCI Emerging Markets Index² fell by -7.47%.

In terms of the underlying dynamics of equity market performance, although performance was in the red across the board, value-oriented stocks were "less bad" than their growth counterparts as the MSCI ACWI Value Index and the MSCI ACWI Growth Index posted returns of -10.74% and -14.66%, respectively.

The Marsico Global Fund posted a return of -19.56% for the fourth quarter and underperformed its benchmark, the MSCI All Country World Index², which returned -12.75%.

Primary Detractors⁵:

The largest detractor from performance during the quarter was stock selection in the Communication Services sector⁸. Similarly, stock selection was weak in the Health Care and Consumer Discretionary sectors. An overweight posture to the weak-performing Information Technology sector detracted from results, as well as an underweight posture to the Consumer Staples sector.

Primary Contributors⁵:

The Fund benefitted by maintaining an elevated allocation to cash and cash equivalents, with ~8% on average and ~6% at the end of the period. Having a lack of investment in the weakest-performing sector of the benchmark index, Energy, helped performance.

Foreign investments involve risks that may differ from or at times exceed the risks of U.S. investments for various reasons including, without limitation, unstable international, regional, or national political and economic conditions, currency fluctuations, controls on investment and currency, government control over some issuers, taxation, potential nationalization, sovereign solvency issues, lack of company information, less liquid and more volatile markets, and other factors. In addition, the Fund and the stocks and markets in which it invests are subject to other general risks that include volatility and instability, periods of cyclical change and decline, that investors may at times avoid investments in equity securities, and that the investment adviser may select investments for the Fund that do not perform as anticipated.

³ Lipper Inc., A Reuters Company, is a nationally recognized organization that measures the performance of mutual funds within a universe of funds that have similar investment objectives. Returns are historical with capital gains and dividends reinvested. ⁴ As of the Fund's 2/1/2019 prospectus; 1.65% gross, 1.45% net. Marsico Capital Management, LLC, the investment adviser to the Fund (the "Adviser"), has entered into a written expense limitation and fee waiver agreement under which it has agreed to limit the total expenses of the Global Fund (excluding taxes, interest, acquired fund fees and expenses, litigation, extraordinary expenses, brokerage and other transaction expenses relating to the purchase or sale of portfolio investments) to an annual rate of 1.45% of the Fund's average net assets until January 31, 2020. This expense limitation and fee waiver agreement may be terminated by the Adviser at any time after January 31, 2020 upon 15 days prior notice to the Fund and its administrator, provided that no such modification will be made in a manner inconsistent with the terms of the current prospectus. The Adviser may recoup from the Fund fees previously waived or expenses previously reimbursed by the Adviser with respect to the Fund pursuant to this agreement (or a previous expense limitation agreement) if: (1) such recoupment by the Adviser does not cause the Fund, at the time of recoupment, to exceed the lesser of (a) the expense limitation in effect at the time the relevant amount was waived and/or reimbursed, or (b) the expense limitation in effect at the time of the proposed recoupment, and (2) the recoupment is made within three years after the fiscal year end date as of which the amount to be waived or reimbursed was determined and the waiver or reimbursement occurred.
